

The Affordable Connectivity Program

The Affordable Connectivity Program (ACP) provides a discount of up to:

- $30 per month toward internet service for eligible households.

Eligible households can also receive a one-time discount of up to $100 toward purchasing a laptop, desktop computer, or tablet from participating providers. To qualify for this one-time discount, households must contribute more than $10 and less than $50 toward the purchase price.

Any household with an individual who receives Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits from the Social Security Administration is eligible to receive discounted internet service through the ACP. Social Security does not count ACP assistance or as income or a resource for SSI purposes. Receipt of this assistance will not affect your SSI payment.

Go to <https://www.affordableconnectivity.gov>, Affordable Connectivity Program page to learn more and to apply. If you have questions, you'll find a consumer FAQ that can help, along with a list of participating internet service providers sorted by state.
