

General Representation

Waller Smith & Palmer is a full service law firm with a heritage of providing legal services to all members of our community since 1885. Whether you need on-going legal advice or representation in a specific matter, we have the expertise and experience to guide you through the process.

We have represented a broad range of clients, from large corporations to family-owned businesses, from towns to the individuals who live in them. The size of our firm enables us to take on projects of almost any level of complexity. Because we represent individuals, families, and businesses large and small, we know that every client and every case is unique.

We pride ourselves on striving for practical, cost-effective results for our clients. Because we place the client's priorities and goals first, we provide a variety of options for solving legal problems suited to the specific circumstances of each individual client and case.

Waller Smith & Palmer handles matters throughout Connecticut in both state and federal courts and in the Mohegan Tribal Court. We also represent clients in probate court proceedings and before state and federal administrative agencies, municipal boards and commissions. We have successfully represented clients in cases as far as the United States Supreme Court.

Among our lawyers are some who are licensed to practice law in Rhode Island and Massachusetts as well as in Connecticut. Whatever your legal needs, we encourage you to contact us and find out how Waller Smith & Palmer can help.